COAST TO COAST

DARING DESIGN FROM EAST TO WEST BRINGS CULINARY ARTISTRY TO A NEW LEVEL.

west | HERRINGBONE

Head to the coastal community of La Jolla, California, to discover the recently opened Herringbone, the fifth culinary creation by Brian Malarkey and James Brennan. With a modern spin on typical seafaring décor, the industrial indoor-outdoor setting fashioned by designer Thomas Schoos is the perfect backdrop to fresh ocean specialties prepared by Top Chef alum Amanda Baumgarten. Warmed by the beauty of 100-year-old olive trees, stacks of lobster traps, Schoos' own nautical-inspired paintings and whimsical fixtures pay homage to the sea. herringboneeats.com

east | CATCH

For a maritime experience on the east coast, visit New York's Catch, unveiled late last year by the EMM Group. Situated in a three-story loft-like space designed by ICrave, the interiors are built around the performance of Top Chef winner Hung Huynh's tasty dishes from the sea with sleek elements that include a stacked-timber-and-metal staircase, marble-topped bars, brick and copper accents, and incandescent lighting that sets the space aglow. A second Catch outpost is scheduled to open this fall in Miami at The James Royal Palm hotel. emmgroupinc.com
